Sunday mass readings

Some people have said that they would like to follow the readings at Sunday mass, but they are not sure where to find them. There are several options.

Those who like using smart phones or tablets have the easy option of subscribing to "Universalis". This costs about £10 and lasts as long as your phone or tablet does. Not only do you get all the readings for mass for Sundays and weekdays, but the texts of the prayers at mass, as well as the divine office which is the official daily prayer of the church. If you want to try it out, it offers a free one month trial.

Those who prefer a book have two main choices: to buy a book for the current year, or to buy a book which contains the readings for all three years.

The Sunday mass readings are on a three year cycle, of which we are on year A. In the year A we read the gospel of Matthew, in year B the gospel of Mark, and in year C the gospel of Luke. The gospel of John is used for special times across the three year cycle.

The Four Gospels

To find a book for just this year, enter "Sunday mass readings 2020" into a search engine on the internet. To find a book for all three years enter "Peoples Sunday missal".

Remember that the old Peoples Sunday missals which many of us have been using for years still work. Only the translation of the mass prayers have changed, the readings have not.

Those who don't like shopping on the internet can still go to any good book shop (especially a church one) and ask for a Sunday missal.

Polish Evangelisation Weekend at Holy Family

Next weekend we will be hosting an evangelisation weekend to be led by Fr. Wit Chlondowski (OFM), focusing on marriage.

It will run from Friday 7th to Sunday 9th and will use the church the hall and the presbytery. The normal events which take place in those locations will continue and be dovetailed with the Polish events.

On Sunday there will be a Polish mass at 1030am after the usual 9am parish mass, while we are in the hall for coffee, then they will use the hall from the end of their mass about 1130am. They will also celebrate a preparatory mass in Polish on Tuesday evening at 7pm.

Let us try and be as generous and accommodating as we can. We are blessed at Holy family with our buildings and it is right to try to use them as much as we can for the different needs of the church in the parish and the deanery.
